‘ROADWAY DIET’ PROJECT

JUST IN TIME FOR MEMORIAL WEEKEND: City of San Marcos Public Services Equipment Operator Jared Venable applies asphalt to a paving project that will transform C.M. Allen Parkway from four to two-lanes. The “roadway diet” project uses striping to reduce traffic lanes and to add bicycle lanes and parallel parking. C.M. Allen provides access to several City parks, including Juan Veramendi Plaza, Children’s Park, Rio Vista Park and Lucio Park. City crews are resurfacing the street from Hopkins to the I-35 access road. (Photo by Don Anders)
